NORTH POLE · WORKSHOP NO. 1

OFFICIAL NICE LIST CORRESPONDENCE

December 2026

Dear Maya,

Greetings from the North Pole! The snow is falling, the cocoa is warm, and I just had to stop everything to write you this letter. And six years old! My, how you have grown this year.

I hear from my helpers that you have been so kind to your little brother. Well done! I am so very proud of you.

I also know you have been working hard on tying your shoes. Keep trying, one little step at a time. The elves and I believe in you!

Please tell Leo I said hello. You two make a wonderful team. And give Biscuit a scratch behind the ears from Rudolph. He asks about Biscuit every year!

I read your wish for a red scooter. What a wonderful thing to wish for! The elves have written it down very carefully.

The elves have even given you a workshop name: Mistletoe Candycane. They think it suits you perfectly.

Here at the workshop, Mrs. Claus is baking gingerbread and the reindeer are practising their landings. Keep being kind, and get a good sleep on Christmas Eve. I will be watching for your window!

With love and sleigh bells,

Santa Claus

N·P

P.S. Listen for sleigh bells on Christmas Eve!

LEFT BY THE TREE ON CHRISTMAS MORNING

Dear Maya,

Thank you for the cookies! They were the best ones on my whole trip. The reindeer gobbled up every last carrot, and Rudolph says thank you too.

Merry Christmas!
